Background

Coinciding with the Centenary of Anzacs our incentive behind the series of biographical publications is the Adelaide University Football and Cricket Club's desire to honour our players who served in the Great War (1914 - 1918). These brave men put on hold their academic, professional and sporting careers for King and Country in the name of peace and freedom. The AUFC/AUCC WW1 Memorial Committee is endeavouring to identify every one of our players who served and prepare life stories on all. This is to ensure their sacrifices and further contributions to society will be recognised by future generations.

On Anzac Day 2015, the Centenary of the Gallipoli landing, a memorial plaque was unveiled on the Adelaide University Oval Pavilion and this was followed by the erection of a picket fence between the pavilion and the scoreboard with each picket bearing a plaque with the name of an AUFC/AUCC player who served.

The following documentation relates to the life of John Felix Astley. It is compilation of information and photographs collected from a variety of historical sources.

Education

Growing up in Hill Street North Adelaide, John Felix Astley attended nearby Queen's School.

Queen's School Students c1910

John then went to St Peters College to complete his Senior Public Examinations. At St Peters he played 1st XI cricket in 1914 and 1915.

In his final year at St Peter's College in a match against Adelaide University B grade he took 5 for 45 with his medium pace bowling and was a member of the SPSC Intercollegiate team that played Prince Alfred College at Adelaide Oval.

SPSC v University November 1915

Adelaide University

He commenced the first year of an Arts Degree in 1916. With the SACA abandoning the official district competition due to the War there was little opportunity for John to play any cricket. His sport and studies were put on hold when he chose to serve.

War Service

In February 1917 at only 18 years and 7 months of age, Astley enlisted in the AIF, serving with the 50th Battalion. In August, after undergoing training in Artillery in Australia, he embarked for overseas service with the rank of Gunner. Assigned initially in the Artillery he was later transferred to the Infantry as a Private because of a shortage of men. After arriving in England John had some periods of illness and did not see action in France until March 1918. He remained on overseas service until March 1919 and was discharged in May after returning to Australia.

Return to Adelaide University and Sport

Cricket

On his return to University, he commenced a law degree and was back on the cricket field in the 1919/20 season. After taking 8 wickets for 83 runs against PAC early in the season in B grade, Astley was promoted to the A Grade team, however it was not until the 1921/22 season that he became a regular A Grade team member.

University v PAC Nov 1919

Astley also played in consecutive Intervarsity matches in December of 1921 and 1922. After graduating in 1922 he continued his cricket career with North Adelaide for a few seasons.

1921 Intervarsity Team

Back row: J.Howlett (caretaker), W.M.C. Symonds, W.R.G.Colman, L.T.Gun, A.B.Barker, R.T.Smith, E.J.Harblson, J.C. Haines (Scorer)
Front row: J.F.Astley, L.V.Pellew (vice capt), G.E.Jose (capt), H.M.Fisher, T.D.Finey
Held in Adelaide; won by Sydney

Probably one of his most memorable matches for University was his last in the 1921/22 Season. Bowling for University A-Grade against the powerful Sturt team that included Vic Richardson and former University and State player Hurtle Willsmore, John was hit for four consecutive sixes at University Oval. Willsmore then hit three more off Swann the next over to make it seven sixes in a row.

CRICKET By "Sport."

Though the season is drawing to a close, and little hangs on to the result of the final match, the batsmen, with but a couple of exceptions, were not prepared to open out and play anything of an interesting game.

On all ovals, with the exception of the Sturt v. University match, play was dull and uninteresting. In this game, however, the spectators were treated to a glorious display of hurricane hitting, and scoring was at a wonderful rate.

Hurtle Willsmore, in his partnership with V. Y. Richardson, played a very rare innings, and was responsible for a wonderful display of hitting. In scoring 187 he hit 8 shots over the boundary and 17 fours. In 10 consecutive balls he added no less than 54 runs, and in another over he scored 34.

After passing his 100 he opened out properly. Off Astley he piled on the 34 above mentioned (four sixes), and in the next over off Swann he lifted three out of the ground (one nearly into the river). His powerful driving and his total, while being the highest individual score of the season, was reminiscent of some of the big knocks of old times.

John headed the A Grade aggregate with 18 wickets in his final season.

Baseball

In 1922 State baseballer, AUCC cricketer and also a fellow Law student, Patrick Ohlstrom, founded the Adelaide University Baseball Club. Astley along with several other cricketers joined the team which was coached by another former AUCC cricketer and dental graduate, Jack Edwards.

Law Practice

John Astley was admitted as a legal practitioner of the Supreme Court on 14th December 1922 (presented by Mr. W J Isbister KC) on the same occasion as fellow law graduate and soldier Arthur Blackburn VC and team-mate and State cricketer Lance Pellew. Originally with the law firm Isbister, Hayward and Magarey, he later became a partner with Finlayson, Mayo, Astley and Hayward which became the Law Firm Finlayson, Phillips, Astley and Hayward. As a prominent Adelaide barrister and QC, the firm's office was at 16 Pirie St, Adelaide.

His legal career was interrupted when he volunteered to serve again in World War II. This time in 1942 he enlisted in the Royal Australian Air Force with the rank of Flight Lieutenant and later in 1944 was promoted to Squadron Leader.

In 1953, John and Molly Astley hosted a party for young Adelaide lawyers during a legal convention. Amongst those present would have been John Astley's son, Michael, who also became a lawyer, graduating LLB in 1951 from Adelaide University. While at University he played tennis, winning a Blue in 1948.

Big Round Of Dinner Parties

Adelaide had its biggest round of dinner parties last night for one objective — to entertain Legal Convention guests. Thirty parties were planned.

Mr. Earnest Phillips, QC and Mrs. Phillips and Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Astley invited young Adelaide lawyers and their wives to meet some leaders of the profession among interstate and SA guests at their buffet dinner party in Mr. and Mrs. Astley's home at Gilberton.

Interstate guests included Mr. Justice Kinsella and Mrs. Kinsella, the president of the Law Council of Australia (Sir Garfield Barwick, QC) and Lady Barwick and Mr. and Mrs. B. J. F. Wright, from NSW; Mr. J. G. Norris, QC and Mrs. Norris, from Victoria.

Mr. Justice Ross and his daughter Elizabeth were among SA guests.

Legal Representative for Elder Smith & Co.

John Astley QC, in addition to other important clients, over many years acted for one of the long established Adelaide companies, Elder Smith & Co. The company, in addition to other businesses, had established one of Adelaide's earliest and largest trustee companies and provident funds to protect the interest of the community in their retirement years. Many of the Adelaide "Establishment" were investors, benefactors, and guardians of the company and its provident funds.

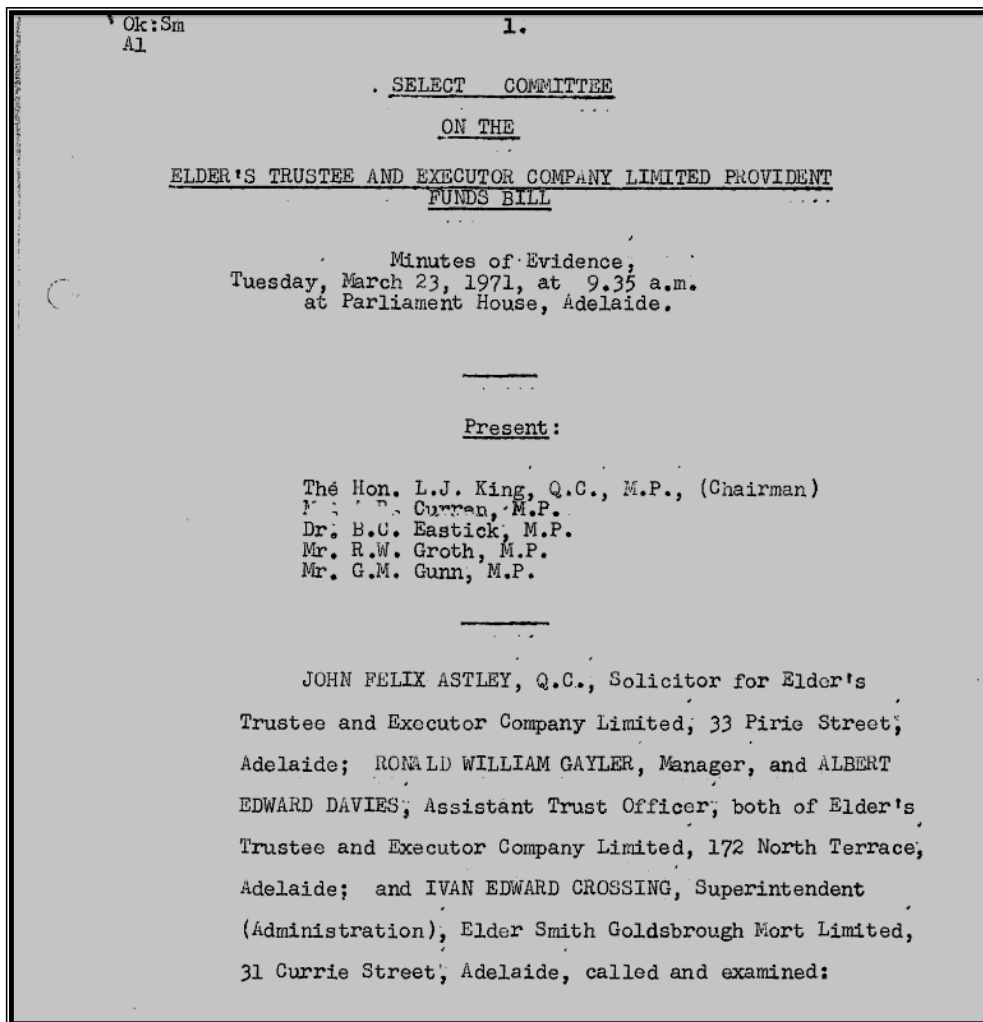

Following a merger with Goldsbrough Mort in 1962 and changes to corporate structures, the protection of the people's retirement funds became a paramount issue for both the company and the SA State Government. John was called on several occasions to represent the company at Parliamentary Hearings engaged to implement legislation to protect these funds.

In 1963 he was called before a "Select Committee":

"Select Committee on the Elder Smith & Co. Limited Provident Funds Bill, 1963 – Minutes of Evidence Tuesday, September 10, 1963 at 10.00am in Committee Room No.1 of the Legislative Council {Chairman Colin Rowe, Attorney-General} John Felix Astley, QC, Barrister and Solicitor, 16 Pirie St, Adelaide, called and examined."

In 1971 he was further "called and examined" before a Parliamentary Select Committee.

Despite the duty of care that the legal representatives for Elders and the State Government had taken in the decade that followed corporate raiders saw the assets of Elders, including the Provident Fund, stripped resulting in losses to a huge number of fund members.

"There is a remarkable history to an employee benefit trust established in South Australia on 23 December 1913 known as The Provident Fund. This Fund and related funds were established by acts of personal generosity by "Adelaide Gentlemen". Yet these acts of personal generosity were to be followed decades later by acts of sheer greed by "Melbourne Asset Strippers".

The name of The Provident Fund was changed to the Elders IXL Superannuation Fund in 1982.

One of the "Adelaide Gentlemen" was Robert Barr Smith, the co-founder with Sir Thomas Elder, of Elder Smith & Co Limited in 1888. Robert Barr Smith was also concerned about the number of cases of widows being swindled by dishonest lawyer and accounts after the deaths of their husbands, so with the assistance of the Parliament of South Australia, Robert Barr Smith established a reputable Trustee and Executor company that the widows could turn to with confidence.

It was to be a cruel turn of fate that resulted in the widows of both the male employees of the Trustee and Executor company, as well as its parent company, to themselves be the victims of dishonest lawyers and accountants many decades later, when their survivorship pensions were stolen from them to fund the "get rich plans" of the "Melbourne Asset Strippers".

Other Activities

In 1953 John Felix Astley, then of 16 Edwin Terrace Gilberton was awarded the Queen Elizabeth II Coronation Medal for his service as Chairman, Physiotherapist Board of SA.

John was also a fine golfer and member of the Royal Adelaide Golf Club for over 50 years and was Club President 1967 - 69. On several occasions came close to winning the Club Championship. The Honour Board at the Club lists him as having had a hole in one. His wife was also Associates President 1958 - 60.

GOLF
ROYAL ADELAIDE CHAMPIONSHIP
WON BY T. S. CHEADLE
The final rounds of the Royal Adelaide Golf Club Championship, which were played on Saturday, resulted in a win for Mr. T. S. Cheadle with a comfortable margin of seven strokes. The chief feature of the day was the fine recovery of Legh Winner, who was unplaced on the first two rounds, fourth after an 83 on Saturday morning, and pulled up to second with a par 73 in the afternoon. A fine round of 74 on the previous Saturday left J. F. Astley in the lead by one stroke from Cheadle, but on Saturday morning he fell away to an 86 against Cheadle's 79. L. G. Toms, who was equal second with Cheadle and H. C. Sott, turned in an 87. Cheadle was regarded as a certain winner at the beginning of the final round, especially after Winner's poor display in the morning. As it proved, Winner, with a good morning round, might easily have pulled up even the seven strokes which he lacked on the leaders after the two first rounds, as he went out and shot a 73, faultless with the exception of putting lapses at one of two holes. His figures were—Out—4, 4, 5, 4, 1, 3, 6, 3, 4—26; in—4, 4, 4, 3, 2, 5, 4, 5, 4. The six at the long seventh was the result of a failure to hole an eighteen-inch putt. He had three putts at the short tenth, and missed probabilities at the thirteenth and seventeenth. A long putt went down for a two at the fourteenth. Even this effort, however, gained him only two strokes on Cheadle, who returned a thoroughly sound 75 in the afternoon. He started with a pair of indifferent fives, but after that never made a mistake. He failed to get his four at the sixteenth and seventeenth, but a four at the last finished a 28 home round for a total of 75. Both Toms and Astley improved after lunch, Toms making a creditable 78 to be for third place with Astley, who just broke 80. His Excellency the Governor (Sir Alexander Horn-Ruthven), who was accompanied by Mr. Patrick Horn-Ruthven, watched the play. The second round of the Bomanquet Cup was also played. Scores:—Championship—T. S. Cheadle, 211; C. L. Winner, 218; L. G. Toms, 229; J. F. Astley, 225; H. C. Sott, 227; R. C. Forbes, 231; W. N. ## Later Years in 1982, John would have been disappointed to witness the corporate raid by John Elliott when his company (Henry Jones IXL) "merged" with Elder Smith Goldsborough & Mort to form Elders IXL and saw the asset stripping that followed. He died in 1983 at the age of 84.

His wife "Molly" had predeceased him in 1961.
