

LETTERS FROM THE FRONT.

PTE. C. BRAME

writes from Lemnos to his parents, Verner-street, East Geelong:—I am still going strong and feeling in great trim for another snack at the Turks if we have to go back there again. We are still in the rest camp and having a good time. We often play football against the Navy, who are a fine lot of sports. One of the battleship crews brought their band over recently, and gave us a ripping concert. They had some great comics amongst them. I enjoyed it better than any concert or play I ever saw. These naval chaps are marvels: they carry on just as if there was no war, and behind it is that determined look which makes them boss of the seas. I don't think half the people realise what we owe to these jolly Tars. Thanks for the "News of the Week"; it is all right to get a bit of news from home. It is always rushed.
