DEATHS.

BAYLEY.—On the 18th September, 1919, at her parents' residence, 93 Merton street, Albert Park, Daisy Maud, the dearly loved youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Bayley (late of Geelong), and loving sister of Fanny (Mrs. E. Smith), 95 Garden-street, East Geelong, Edith (Mrs. E. A. Hudson), Albert Park; Ethel (Mrs. W. Martin), Tallangaita; and Archie.
No Flowers by Request.

IN MEMORIAM.

ON ACTIVE SERVICE.

DAY.—In loving remembrance of Lieut. Norman F. Day, who died of wounds at Empire Hospital, London, on 21st September, 1918.

—Inserted by his parents, sisters and brother.

EMOND.—In loving memory of our dear brother, Private James Emond, killed in action in France September 20th, 1917.

'Tis hard to remember the lads who fell,
Lads we knew and loved so well;
And many a heart grows sad and sore
For a lad laid low on an alien shore.

—Inserted by his loving brother and sister-in-law and little nephews, Bobby, Allan, Russell.

FANNING.—A tribute of love to the memory of our dear friend, Jack (Cpl. J. Fanning, 7th Battalion), killed in action at Polygon Wood, 20th September, 1917.

Immaculate heart of Mary,
Your prayers for him extol;
Oh Sacred Heart of Jesus
Have mercy on his soul.
R.I.P.

—Inserted by his loving friends, Mr and Mrs. Gurrie and family.

LONG.—In loving memory of our beloved youngest son and brother, Private Albert Long, 5th Batt A.I.F., died of wounds received in France on the 20th September, 1917. Loving brother of Cpl. G. J. Long, late 58th Batt. A.I.F. (returned)

In distant France he is lying,
Killed by a passing shell;
Buried by his comrades,
The boys who loved him well.

We often think of you, dear brother,
And think of how you died;
To think you could not say good-bye
Before you closed your eyes.

—Inserted by his loving father, mother, sisters and brothers.

LONG.—In ever loving memory of our dear brother, Pte. Albert Long, of 5th Battalion, 2nd Reinforcements, killed in action by passing shell at Polygon Wood on 20th September, 1917. Our Hero.

The war is over, the victory won,

The war is over, the victory won,
To some those words sound nice;
But oh, how sad the hearts of those Whose loved ones paid the price.

—Inserted by his loving brother, Charles J. Long, late 58th Battalion (returned) and sister-in-law, M. E. Long, "Hazeldene," Mt Pleasant-road, Belmont.

LONG.—In loving memory of my dearly loved brother, Private Albert Long, 50 Battalion, A.I.F., died of wounds received in France on the 20th September, 1917.
—Inserted by his fond sister Rose.

LONG.—In loving memory of my dear brother, Private Albert Long, killed at Polygon Wood on 20th September, 1917.

Always happy and cheerful,
With a heart that knew no fear,
He went to face life's battle
For all he loved so dear.

He went away so bravely,
His head he proudly held,
His footsteps never faltered,
His courage never failed.

Not for the love of battle
Left he his native land,
He heard the call of duty
And responded like a man.

One of the best that God could send,
A loving brother so kind and true;
So dearly loved and sadly missed
By everyone he knew.

—Inserted by his sorrowing brother, Percival Long, Barwon Heads.

STOTT.—In loving memory of our Claude Signaller C. A. Stott, 2nd Batt., who died of wounds September 21st, 1918, after 2 years and 5 months' active service, younger son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Stott, of Burwood, Melbourne, late of North Geelong.

Our Anzac. Sadly Missed.

—Inserted by father (returned) and mother.

STOTT.—In loving memory of our brother Claude, who died of wounds September 21st, 1918.

He will always be in our memory,
Though his grave is over the foam,
Where he fell 'mid the thunder of battle,
Fighting for those at home.

—Inserted by his sisters, Ivy and Edna.

ROWBURY.—In loving memory of our dear mother, who passed away on 21st September, 1916.

She was a friend to many,
And to her own proved true;
Unselfish, steadfast, kind to all,
And the best of mothers too.

—Inserted by her loving son and daughter-in-law, J. and A. Rowbury.

THORNTON.—In loving memory of my dear husband and our father, passed away on the 20th September, 1918, at his resi-

dear husband and our father, passed away on the 20th September, 1918, at his residence, Geelong West. Late of Dereel.

To-day brings our memories fresh

Of our loved one who is at rest:

Sweet be thy rest and peaceful thy sleeping,
God's way is best, thou art in His keeping
